Thin Brick Home Case Study

I really wanted a brick house and not a brick and something else in the gable ends and thankfully with your product (Speedymason) I was able to get what I wanted. I ended up having the contractor have his guys install the panels and I rented a man lift and did the job myself with a helper.

And I am no mason, but I have put down some tile a couple times. Thanks for providing a product, without which, I would have not even attempted to do this and settled for some other material in the gable ends.
